CUPID AT WORK.

Marriage of Clifford Sifton and Miss Barrows.

We take the following respecting our townsmen, from the Winnipeg Sun, and join his many friends in Brandon in wishing him many years of a happy wedded life.

Quite a large number of people, principally ladies, gathered in Grace Church yesterday evening to witness the nuptials of Mr. Clifford Sifton, barrister of Brandon, and son of Hon.
J. W. Sifton, to Miss E. A. Barrows, of Ottawa, but who has resided in Winnipeg for a long period. Precisely at 5:30 the guests appeared.
Among them were Hon. J. W. Sifton and Mrs. Sifton; Mr. Arthur Sifton, brother of the bridegroom, with his wife, and Miss Sifton. A few minutes later the bride's friends appeared. Next moment the bridegroom, supported by Mr. Theodore Burrows, brother of the bride, emerged from the vestry and approached the altar, where Rev. Mr. Stafford was waiting. The bride, supported by Miss Jones and her own sister, appeared from the other side of the vestry. Whilst the minister is engaged in tying the knot, a glimpse might be taken at the dresses. The bride who always looked lovely, but who looked it in a superlative degree yesterday, was dressed in white brocade satin. On her bosom reposed a lovely bouquet of flowers. She wore a long white veil. Miss Jones was dressed in white, and Miss Barrows wore a long silk dress. The bridegroom wore ordinary morning dress, as did also the groomsmen, Mr.
Burrows.

Just as the couple were about to leave the altar, when the ceremony was concluded, Mr. Somerset Atkins, on behalf of the trustees of the church, approached them and presented the bride with a magnificent Bible. Mr.
Atkins said it was in pursuance of a time-honored custom, of presenting a Bible to the first pair who were united in a new church, that the presentation was made. On behalf of the trustees of the church he wished them a long and happy life. Mr.
Sifton then led his bride away. In a few minutes they were both surrounded by their friends extending their congratulations. As the carriages were in waiting the party soon entered them and drove to Mr. Theodore A. Burrows' residence, where supper was spread. A happy time was spent during the evening. This morning the newly-wedded pair left for Brandon, where they are going to reside.

A FRIGHTFUL DEATH.

A Young Man Torn to Pieces by a Mowing Machine.

The Free Press, has the following report of the Virdean mowing accident, by which James Sanford lost his life:

A terrible accident occurred at Virdean last week, through which a young man named James Sanford, aged 18 years, lost his life. He was employed on the farm of W. Stephen in the vicinity of Virdean. He and another young man were engaged with two mowing machines several hundred yards apart, with a small blade between them. His companion heard young Sanford's mower making a peculiar noise and proceeded to ascertain the cause, when he saw Sanford's team running, and that he had been thrown off the machine.
He at once caught the horses and came back, but what was his horror to find Sanford lying on the ground in a large pool of blood, his body being completely mangled by the fatal knives. It appears that he had just finished cutting a piece of hay and was just moving to start operations on another piece a short distance away, when his horses suddenly took fright, turned quickly around and upset the mower, taking him underneath, where he became entangled in the knives, and was dragged a distance of 225 feet before being left where his companion found him. When found he was unconscious. He was conveyed to his home, and Dr. Matheson, of Virdean, was immediately sent, who did all in his power to relieve his sufferings; but his injuries were of such a terrible nature that it was impossible for him to survive. Upon examination it was found that his left arm was cut off at the elbow, and above that it was completely mangled and almost torn to shreds. The right arm was broken. On the left side the collar bone was completely smashed in, causing internal injuries.

The head was cut from the forehead to the back part of the neck. The scalp was severed from the skull down to the cheek bone, completely severing the right ear from the side of the head. The skull was also broken and crushed in at the temple.
The left cheek and eyes were bruised, and there were numerous bad cuts about the face. But notwithstanding such terrible injuries, any one of which was sufficient to cause death, he lived for thirty hours after the accident. Dr. Matheson states that, with an extended practice in the mining districts of the Western States and in Australia, he has never seen or heard of a case where a human being displayed such nerve and vitality.

A CASE OF PREMONITION.

A Short Narrative of Interest to Students of Psychology.

[Alex. Skirving in Nineteenth Century.] As a constant reader of The Times, I have noticed the "proceeding" of the Psychical society, and as your society has invited communications, I respectfully beg to offer you a short statement of my experience on a subject which I do not understand. Let me premise that I am not a scholar, as I left school at 12 years of age in 1837, and I therefore hope you will forgive all sins against composition and grammar. I am a working foreman of masons at Winchester cathedral, and have been for the last nine years a resident of this city. I am a native of Edinburgh.
It is now more than forty years ago that I was living in London, very near where the Great Western railway now stands, but which was not then built. I was working in the 12th's park for Messrs. Mowlem, Birt & Freeman, who at that time had the government contract for three years for the mason's work of the capital, and who yet carry on a mighty business at Millbank, Westminster. I think it was Gloucester gate if I mistake not. At all events it was that gate of Regent's park to the eastward of the Zoological gardens, at the northeast corner of the park. The distance from my home was too great for me to go home to meals, so I carried my food with me, and therefore had no call to leave the work all day. On a certain day, however, I suddenly felt an instinctive desire to go home, but as I had no business there I tried to suppress it, but it was not possible to do so. Every minute the desire to go home increased. It was 10 in the morning, and I could not think of anything to call me away from the work at such a time. I got filthy and uneasy, and felt as if I must go, even at the risk of being ridiculed by my wife, as I could give no reason why I should leave my work and lose 6d. an hour for nonsense. However, I could not stay, and I set off for home under an impulse which I could not resist.

When I reached my own door and knocked the door was opened by my wife's sister, a married woman, who lived a few streets off.
She looked surprised and said, "Why, Skir-ving, how did you know?" "Know what?" I said, "Why, about Mary Ann?" I said, "I don't know anything about Mary Ann" (my wife) "Then what brought you home at present?" "I can hardly tell you. I seemed to want to come home. But what is wrong?" I asked. She told me that my wife had been run over by a cab, and been most seriously injured about an hour ago, and she had called for me ever since, but was now in fits, and had several in succession. I went up stairs, and though very ill she recognized me, and stretched forth her arms and took me round the neck and pulled my head down into her bosom. The fits passed away directly, and my presence seemed to tranquilize her, so that she got into sleep and did well. Her sister told me that she uttered the most piteous cries for me to come to her, although there was not the least likelihood of my coming. This short narrative has only one merit, it is strictly true.

The Divers of Delhi.

[Delhi (India) Cor. Kanoo City Journal] I followed my "small boy" guide to a very curious well, over 100 feet deep, with a stone curious leading down to the very surface of the water on one side. There were also stone balconies at various heights, from which one could look down into the deep, cool pool.

As I stood cautiously looking over, a scantily-clad native came along with red ochre gait and desperate countenance. Approaching the brink he threw his arms above his head, uttered a despairing shriek, and sprang into the water some eighty odd feet below.

Did my flesh creep? I think it would had I not known what was coming; but if this narrative is to possess the merit of truth, I must confess that I had been told what to expect when I reached this well. Nevertheless it was a "delirious thing for a man to do to plunge down over a precipice, enclosed by granite walls. Again my nerves were over-wrought upon and I turned away almost sick, just as half a dozen more men made the awful plunge. I noticed that their feet went down first, and I judged that the depth of the water must be very great. I wondered that the different divers did not collide with each other. Of course it was all a money-making scheme, and by the time I had reached the head of the long stone staircase there were a dozen dripping natives ejaculating with great gusto, and holding out both hands at me as though they thought I was going to lead them down with gold. I think they must have been laboring under some misapprehension in this respect. At any rate I shot my eyes, hurried a handful of pice among the crowd, and betook myself to my heels, for I could see another dozen clambering up the ghaat, and I wanted to have enough money left to at least get through to Bengal.

Wheat will yield 25 and barley 45 bushels per acre. Oats are uncertain as yet. There is considerably more acreage than last.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Aug. 12.—The crops are exceedingly good, especially wheat and barley. Oats are fair with a small acreage sown. Barley is a small acreage in also. The average yield of wheat per acre will be about 35 to 40 bushels; barley, about 40 to 50 bush. per acre. Several farmers commenced to cut wheat to-day. Barley was cut last week, and oats will be ready about the 20th inst.

WESTBOURNE.

WESTBOURNE, Man., Aug. 12.—The outlook for a bountiful harvest is excellent. The crop is principally wheat. The grain is standing three feet high and remarkably even. It is coloring fast and will be ready for harvesting in ten days. Barley is being cut. The entire yield will be heavier than ever before. Barley was in stack at the Post Lake Manitoba, a week ago.

GLADSTONE.

GLADSTONE, Man., Aug. 12.—The wheat crop is looking better than it has for some years. Some extra fine fields of wheat will be cut about Friday, the 15th inst. Oats are rather under the average, but have been picking up well lately, and promise a fair crop. The first were cut on Monday, Aug. 11. Barley is good and more than an average crop, and considerably more than usual was sown. The first was cut on Aug. 6. The prospects are good for an abundant harvest. The farmers are very hopeful. Harvest this year will be at least two weeks earlier than last. The weather is excellent for ripening grain.

NEEPAWA.

NEEPAWA, Man., Aug. 12.—The golden harvest of Beautiful Plain country is now ready for the sickle. Several farmers started binders on Monday, Aug. 11. Crops of all kinds never looked better. All the wheat and barley will be ready for cutting by the first of next week. The yield will be heavy.

MINNEDOSA.

MINNEDOSA, Man., Aug. 12.—Wheat in this district is a magnificent crop; the finest ever known. Oats have wonderfully improved in the last three weeks and will be very good. Barley is also looking well. The farmers expect a first-rate crop. Some will commence cutting wheat about the 15th inst.

SIDNEY.

SIDNEY, Man., Aug. 12.—The wheat and oats in this vicinity are a splendid crop. Farmers will commence cutting both on the 18th inst. Barley is an average crop and will be ready for cutting about the same time.

CARBERRY.

CARBERRY, Man., Aug. 12.—Our wheat crop is much above the average. Cutting will commence on some farms about the 15th. Oats are below the average, but much better than expected. Some will commence cutting about the 18th. Barley is an average crop, and cutting will be commenced this week.

BRANDON.

BRANDON, Aug. 12.—From all quarters of the country come the most satisfactory reports of the crops. The dry weather during seeding, from which so much was feared, resulted in very little damage, the fine growing weather of July appearing to have remedied what little injury was caused. The delightful weather of the last week or two has been exactly suited to bring grain to perfection of weight and sample. Harvest will begin next week, and as the season is much earlier than last, promises to be saved in good condition. Fall wheat in general is first class. It is thick on the ground and the heads are full and well developed, which will result in more than the average yield and of the best quality. The area of oats sown is small, and, owing to dry weather a small crop is looked for. Of barley what little was sown looks well. The hay crop is lighter than last year, and the quality fit for shipment will be smaller. A considerable quantity of peas have been sown and so far they promise well. Potatoes are from all quarters and without exception reported magnificent. All kinds of root crops and garden stuffs promise an excellent yield. As a summary it may be said that the crops are all of excellent quality and nothing but unusual storms or very early fall frosts injuring the late fields can prevent the crops from being one of the largest ever known.

GRISWOLD.

GRISWOLD, Aug. 12.—All the crops in this vicinity are looking first-class. The wheat crop is looking excellent, and it is thought that there will be a much larger yield than last year. Cutting will commence in about ten days. Oats are looking well, and although a light, will be up to the average of former seasons. The barley crop is very good, and some have now commenced harvesting. The farmers in this vicinity have formed a company, and purpose erecting an elevator at this point with a capacity of 30,000 bushels. Tenders for the building will be called for at once, and the work pushed forward with all possible speed in order to have it ready to ship this season's crop.

VIRIDEN.

VIRIDEN, Man., Aug. 12.—The crops in this vicinity are looking splendid. Wheat and barley are far above the average, but oats are not looking so well and are rather late. Barley has already been cut by some and the wheat harvest will begin to-morrow. Oats will not be ready to cut for two weeks.

ELKHORN.

ELKHORN, Man., Aug. 12.—The crops in this vicinity are looking splendid. Wheat and barley are first class, but oats are not looking so well and are ripening late. Some barley was cut to-day. The wheat harvest will commence in a few days. Oats will not be cut for two weeks.

MOOSOMIN.

MOOSOMIN, N. W. T., Aug. 12.—In this district wheat is looking splendid and will be a heavy crop. Harvest will begin about the 20th of August. Barley is a fair crop. Some are harvesting it now. Oats generally are late, but bid fair for a large yield if the weather continues good.

RIVERSIDE.

August 5th, council met—members all present, the Reeve in the chair. The advice (given in writing) of Messrs. Henderson and Henderson, solicitors of Brandon, respecting the legality of the assessment roll of 1884, stating that as the court for the revision of the assessment roll was held previous to the coming into force of the Manitoba Municipal Act, 1884, which was on the 15th day of May 1884, therefore the said assessment roll is perfectly legal, was received and acted upon.

M. G. ABBY.

SHEPPARDVILLE.

School opened in the new Victoria School, 7 5 19 west, on the 4th inst. Miss Susie Sheppard lately arrived from Gananoque, Ont.; is the first teacher. Already the trustees speak highly of her as being a very efficient teacher. She was lately heard boasting that she had the best building in the valley. I suppose the statement is correct as she meant the school house.

Flying ants have appeared here, and by superiority of number and extreme ferocity are attacking uncles, cousins, brothers and sisters, with a view of beating us badly. For instance last Sabbath at 1 o'clock p. m. said ants attacked a man from range 19. By the by said man is a J. P. Municipal assessor, school trustee, secy-treas., road overseer, etc. etc. When the ants first pitched into him he ran out and started for Dakota. I at first mused thusly, "All right if he takes so many ants with him, yes? yes? good riddance," but I soon saw a young lady go for him with a broom, not him but the ants. She dare not strike a justice of the peace on Sunday, but however with the assistance of another man with a clothes brush, the ants were subdued, in fact overpowered and the honor of man as "lord of creation" sustained amid suppressed laughter and pity, mingled with a few broad smiles, a youth of 18 summers joyfully exclaimed "Bob he is saved."

A man named Edward Thompson was almost smothered by lightning, knocked down &c., but strange to say has recovered and is able to make hay.

The man killed by lightning in the late storm was named Richard Campbell not Robert as stated in your last issue of the Mail.

Cannot the Farmers' Union do something to destroy these flying ants? Cannot Doc. Fleming, the president tell them to go. The Ottawa rulers cannot be to blame for the ant nuisance, as such little soldiers came not from that direction.

WHITEWATER.

Minutes of Council meeting held at Mr. Gibson's, Aug. 4th, 1884.

Present the Reeve, councillors McKellar, Walker, Robinson and Madill. The Reeve presiding.

Moved by Coun. Robinson, seconded by Coun. McKellar, that the clerk sell the remaining copies of the Voters' Lists at fifty cents per copy. Carried.

CANADIAN PACIFIC R.R.

[Toronto Mail]

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—Financiers here to-day were astounded at the statements in the Ottawa correspondence of the Globe of yesterday, about the financial condition of the Pacific Railway. Probably on no former occasion has the correspondent of the paper in question assumed such a license to slander the company without any possible grounds and injure the great enterprise abroad as on the present occasion. I may say at the outset of this emphatic denial of the outrageous and unfounded assertions contained in the correspondence, that there is not one word of honest truth in it from the beginning of the malevolent despatch to its end. Finding the sensation which the perusal of the paragraph created here, the Mail correspondent immediately commenced an enquiry in the proper quarters to ascertain if there were grounds for any of the assertions contained in the despatch. My first visit was to the secretary at the Canadian Pacific Railway Co's office whom I met with the file of the paper in his hand. On communicating my motive for calling, the secretary sat down at his desk, and taking each paragraph serially, frankly gave me all the information in his power.

AN UNFOUNDED STATEMENT.

The first sentence in the despatch reads as follows: "It appears that the constant demand of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company upon the Government for funds to carry on their work has proved a source of great embarrassment, and accounts for the Government's overdrawn bank account at the close of the fiscal year. In answer to this statement the secretary replied that the Company had not demanded or drawn one cent from the Government, but for work actually executed on the line and certified for by the Government Chief Engineer. This proceeding is in strict conformity with the Act of Parliament, and the Government has no power to deviate from it. The next sentence reads: "The twenty-five million dollars loan obtained by Sir Leonard Tilley in England was discounted before it was taken up, although the arrangement with the Canadian Pacific Co's was that the Government loan granted last session was to be paid as the work progressed." The secretary remarked that it was in advance, as the company had never received any money from the Government except on the estimates of work performed monthly and certified to by the engineer-in-chief. The third sentence reads: "It appears that about fifteen millions of the twenty two and a half millions loan had been drawn before the 30 of June and another million paid over by the Government since that date." The secretary characterized this statement as a gross and unblushing exaggeration. The fact is that the amount received by the company up to the period mentioned was five millions less than the amount stated by the unvarnished correspondence. Since that date the company has only received the exact amount due on the certificate of the engineer-in-chief; but the next or fourth sentence caps the climax of over every other assertion. It reads that "the Government have lately been obliged to guarantee a temporary loan of five millions for the Canadian Pacific Co's to some Montreal and New York banks." That is say the Government has become the Syndicate's endorser for an outside loan of five millions. This monstrous assertion tickled the secretary considerably. He denied in the most positive manner that any such loan had been either proposed by or raised for the Company by the Government or any other party. "Why," he remarked, "any intelligent person must know that the Government has no authority to do otherwise than the laws direct, and there is no power given in the statutes for undertaking such an obligation." The next sentence proves beyond question the profound ignorance of the mischievous writer of the untruthful despatch. It reads as follows:—"Notwithstanding the Government guarantee the Syndicate have not been able to unload any of their stock, and their increasing demands upon the Dominion Treasury have left the latter almost empty." It is finally stated that a number of contractors have been requested to wait a month or two for payment of their work. In regard to the issue of the stock the Company the Secretary said has not been trying to issue any as it is very well known the thirty millions remaining is deposited in the hands of the Government as security for the the loan authorized in the last session of Parliament. The Secretary remarked in conclusion that it was of the contractors having to wait for their pay, but as it was not in his department he could not speak authoritatively on the subject. He did not believe, however, there was any more truth in the assertion than in the series of statements which he had just denied. After retiring from the Canada Pacific office your correspondent proceeded to interview the leading bankers of the city about the loan referred to in the despatch. In every instance the heads of the different banks from Montreal down confirmed the emphatic denial of the Secretary of the Company that no such loan had been proposed to them, and they all expressed their belief that there was not the least foundation for the statement to the effect that a loan had been obtained.

While at the banks the concluding paragraph in the infamous despatch was brought to the notice of the general managers, it reads as follows: "It is also true that overtures have been made to a number of Canadian banks with a view of inducing them to convert their present cash reserves into Government bonds." The experienced experts who preside over the leading banks here could not restrain their mirth on reading the paragraph which they remarked was too absurd to require an answer. A veteran general manager asked how could banks be safely carried on if all the money were given away. All the bankers declared that no such approaches as those alluded to had been made to them. "Why," said one leading broker, "the Finance Minister is in England and his deputy, Mr. Courtney, is also absent on his holidays, and has no power in Ottawa to make such a proposition?"

The Hon. J. H. Pope, acting Minister of Railways, who was in the city, pronounced the Ottawa despatch as

FALSE FROM BEGINNING TO END.

He said the Government had investigated and is now confident the company will complete the line before the time stated, and without any further assistance from the country.

A fire broke out in the Riley House, which is now vacant, about half past ten last Tuesday evening. The engine was on the spot promptly, but a few pails of water subdued the flames. This was no doubt the work of an incendiary, one or two of whom appear to still linger about the city.

Mrs. Taylor, said to be a lunatic, and who escaped from the Kelly House while taking care of her husband has turned up again. She made for the residence of the Millford stage driver in this city, and asked the inmates to conceal her until the search for her whereabouts would be all over, and she would then escape. The residents, of course, disclosed the secret, and it led to her recapture. Evidently the woman has a desire to go home to her relatives, and it might be a great service to her to take her there.

The farmers of Griswold mean "Farmers' Union" in the proper meaning of the term. They have now nearly all the stock subscribed for a five thousand dollar elevator, and are advertising for tenders for its construction, and getting ready to handle this fall's crop of wheat themselves. The lights of the Union at Brandon have been talking about the same thing for some time, but so far there is nothing done. They appear to be good for the wind work of a fierce battle but are never prepared to carry warfare any farther.

There was a great slaughter of the innocents on Saturday last, duck season having commenced. Ald. Darst, I Shupe, the many form of the proprietor of the Laugham, Capt. Wastie and others report immense success, but Dr. McDonald and Ald. Kavanaugh report the largest score on record. They shot 119 but they were all "flappers." The way they did it was this: The man of pills inveigled the birds into a bag, and held them there till the man of postage stamps came up and despatched them after a most desperate struggle. The two gentlemen rode into town with their trophy with as much ceremony as attended Alexander the Great from his celebrated eastern tour after having conquered the world.

The local Government has appointed a License Inspector for the Western Judicial District, and that one is Mr. Bryans, of Nelson. As there are more hotels in Brandon than all the rest of the District put together, and more revenues accruing from them than from the rest of the territory, justice would have suggested that a Brandonite should have received the appointment, but the Government has willed otherwise. Dr. Wilson is a member of the Government, and Mr. Bryans is a constituent of the Doctor, ergo it is of more importance that the Government's interests than the District's necessities should be looked after. It is scarcely probable Brandon will have a visit once a year from Mr. Bryans, the hotel keepers are forced to pay money out of their own pockets for the discharge duties that ought to be done by the License Inspector.

Frank Goff and John John, two Chater sportsmen, have been victimized, under the game laws, for shooting prairie chickens before the law allows it.

J. H. McDougall, who has made a mint of money in sheep raising in Australia, has been seen basking in the sunshine of the Beaubien Hotel for the past few days, after visiting friends near the Brandon Hills. He is especially well pleased with the appearance of this country and gives it as his opinion that sheep would thrive well here.

Geo. Botting and—Mosgrove have had more or less fun on their own account, with their pacers during the week. On Friday on a mile heat and something of a bet, Botting lost by a respectable distance, but won subsequently on a hundred yards run, standing start, and having a distance of a lead.

A paragraph in a late issue, of the Calgary Nor-Wester says they had frost up at that burg a couple of weeks since, and friend Elliott now rises to give it a "flat denial." His explanation is that the paragraph "copy" got on the wrong hook. Hooks and hooks are had when improperly used. Our old friend, in future, ought to "hook" the other way.

Nearly the entire population of Brandon went out on the prairie, just east of the Court House, last evening to witness that long talked of running race between the Crawford and the Mosgrove ponies. The distance was a mile, best three in five. In the first race was very close, Crawford's coming in slightly ahead; the second was a slight gain for Crawford, and the third was a foul but given to Mosgrove's pony which came in a couple of lengths in advance. The fourth and the race was won by the Chater pony also. R. J. Dickenson, T. E. Kelly and F. Clegg acted as judges and all three agreed on the scores. It is said about $100 changed hands over the result, and as the defeated parties are scarcely satisfied, it is not unlikely these same beasts will yet create a great deal more excitement.

"SPECIALLY JIM."

"B. M." in The Century.
I was mighty good-lookin' when I was young, Peert an' black-eyed an' slim, With fellows a-courtin' me Sunday nights, 'Specially Jim.The likeliest one of 'em all was he,
Clipper an' han'-som an' trim, But I tossed up my head an' made fun o' the crowd, 'Specially Jim!said I hadn't no 'pinion o' men, An' I wouldn't take stock in him!
But they kep' up a-comin' in spite o' my talk, 'Specially Jim!I got so tired o' havin' 'em round' (Specially Jim!)
I made up mind I'd settle down An' take up with a him!So we was married one Sunday in church, 'Twas crowded full to the brim;
'Twas the only way to get rid o' 'em all,
'Specially Jim.

BOB BURDETTE'S WOOING.

The Strange and Pathetic Story of His Invalid Wife.

[Toronto (H.S.) Journal.]
Capt. John Hall received a brief telegram from Ardmore, Pa., recently, announcing the death of Carrie Burdette, the wife of Robert J. Burdette, the famous humorist. Her death occurred at 7 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Burdette was the daughter of Auren Bennett, of this city, and was married to Bob, as she was called, when she was about fifteen years ago. Her father was opposed to Bob, and he made the course of true love of the young couple anything but smooth. Bob was a clerk in the postoffice at that time, and Carrie was a lovely young lady, but with a will of her own that more than matched that of her father.

One day the old man commanded her to discard Bob. She refused, and a violent altercation ensued. Carrie had an undefined trouble with her heart that this precipitated. She was stricken down with a spasm. They sent for Bob, and he found her pale and lifeless on the sofa. Here she managed to express a wish that they might be married before she died, and a clergyman was sent for. The marriage of the great humorist was celebrated amid tears and sighs, the orange blossoms absent, and only the pallor of a dying face looking out from the heap of pillows.

Strange to say she immediately began to recover, and she soon regained her strength; with it, however, was an unaccountable malady. It began with strange numbness at the ends of the fingers, then the flesh fell away and the joints became bent and distorted, and the hands grew like a bird's claw, being doubled up, stiff and useless. Her feet and legs underwent the same metamorphosis, leaving her a perfect and confirmed invalid without the use of any of her limbs. In this condition she was the inspiration of her husband's muse, the critic who spurred him to his task and helped him on in the right direction. Most of his humorous efforts were written by the side of her cradle, for she could not sit up, and he had to feed her and lift her in his arms as if she were an infant. She was a woman possessed of great literary ability, and all his efforts were undertaken in accordance with her wishes. In fact, he would never have attempted the lecture field at all if she had not urged him to it, and sustained him many a time when he was discouraged.

was a beautiful young girl, the daughter of a good deal about the streets of the Crescent city, very pretty and very fond of exercising, with unstrained freedom, a remarkably clear and strong voice.

Not satisfied with the Mosgrove-Crawford race of yesterday, F. A. McIntosh and H. Power had one of their own. Power gave McIntosh considerable of a start, and was to overtake him, but failing in this, he, of course, lost his bet.

Yesterday afternoon Chief McMillan received a telegram from Jos. Bark, who had been surveying in the neighborhood of Brandon, saying he had several horses stolen, and asking for assistance to find the thieves. In a couple of hours afterwards S. Adams, F. L. Fraser, and Hugh Anderson appeared on the race grounds with five ponies they offered for sale. The chief recognized the descriptions given by Bark of the ponies and he nabbed the men and seven horses all told. The certainties are the right men are in the jug, but the case is now up for investigation.
